Introduction

iDESIGN Solutions (iDESIGN) delivers technology education products to schools to help teachers prepare students for future high-demand careers. Together with industry leading partners, we supply products that combine computer and physical systems, such as the internet of things (IOT) and robotics, plus new technologies in artificial intelligence (AI), gaming, design and fabrication. These technologies are commonly delivered in STEAM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts, and Math) education programs in school, after school, camps or in a remote learning setting. iDESIGN is a value added reseller.
